A WARMER SPRING

FORECASTS by the meteorologist at the website Eltiempo.es, Mar Gómez, suggest that spring in Spain will be warmer and drier than usual across mostly all of the country. Based on comparative data, Gómez has determined that in Spain as a whole the average temperature in the months of March, April and May is 13.6C. Taking these, she has calculated that temperatures will be above this norm for the three months this year, especially in the east and centre of the mainland and also the Balearics. Specifically, she is estimating that the Balearics will experience temperatures one to two degrees above the norm. As for rainfall, these are expected to be below the average for the east and south of Spain as well as for the Balearics. Drought conditions in the Balearics could, therefore, be matched in areas such as Alicante and Murcia.
