● "I heard screams and a bit of a crash and then I just saw the crowd parting and this van going full pelt down the middle of the Ramblas and I immediately knew that it was a terrorist attack or something like that. It wasn't slowing down at all. It was just going straight through the middle of the crowds..."

BARCELONA NIGHTMARE

● A van ploughed into crowds in the Spanish city of Barcelona yesterday and a regional official said 13 people were killed in what police said they were treating as a terrorist attack.

● Witnesses said the van zigzagged down one of Barcelona's busiest tourist avenues, Las Ramblas, mowing down pedestrians and leaving bodies strewn across the ground.

● U.S. President Donald Trump said: "The United States condemns the terror attack in Barcelona, and will do whatever is necessary to help." He added: "Be tough & strong, we love you..."
