MAYDAY

VOTE IN PARLIAMENT ON BREXIT DEAL IS PUT ON HOLD.

- Britain's Labour Party called on Prime Minister Theresa May to make way for the opposition party if she could not take on board the fundamental changes required to get her deal through parliament.
- The leader of Britain's pro-European Union Liberal Democrats said his party would support a vote of no confidence in Prime Minister Theresa May if one were called by the opposition Labour Party.
- Prime Minister must either govern or quit, a senior eurosceptic lawmaker in her Conservative Party said yesterday, after she delayed a vote in parliament on her Brexit deal.
- May said that it was her duty to deliver Brexit, and that she would seek reassurances needed by parliament to complete the process.
