● Winds of up to 120 kilometres per hour provoked hundreds of incidents across the island. Trees came down as did some masonry. To make matters worse, there were two forest fires which proved difficult to extinguish because of the conditions. P4

Northern Ireland leaders urge calm as police arrest two over journalist's killing

London.—Two men have been arrested in Northern Ireland over the killing of a journalist during a riot, police said, with politicians calling for calm after the shooting added to concerns about the stability of the region's 21-year-old peace deal.

Lyra McKee, 29, an award-winning journalist who was writing a book on the disappearance of young people during decades of violence in Northern Ireland, was shot dead on Thursday as she watched Irish nationalist youths attack police following a raid.
