General public slam government over handling of health crisis: See Inside

SUPER YACHT. SUPER PAINTING.

$450 million

Salvator Mundi by Leonardo Da Vinci. Believed to be hanging in one of the state-rooms of the superyacht, Serene.

Palma.—It is a question of what is worth more...the superyacht Serene or the painting which allegedly hangs in one of its state rooms?. Serene is presently moored in the Bay of Palma after sailing from Port Alcudia overnight.

The Serene is 133.9m yacht, built by one of the most famous Italian shipyards, Fincantieri, in 2011. Serene provides accommodation for 24 guests in 12 cabins. Her amenities include two helipads, indoor climbing wall, fully equipped spa, three swimming pools and an underwater viewing room plus space for a large submarine. She was bought by Prince Mohammed bin Salmon of Saudia Arabia for 500 million dollars.

And now the painting...Salvator Mundi by Leonardo Da Vinci was sold at auction for an estimated 450 million dollars and it is considered to be the world's most expensive painting. The location of the painting had been a mystery since it was sold for a record $450m (£350m) at auction by Christie's in New York in 2017. But it was later reported that the 500-year-old painting was being kept aboard Serene.

SPANISH WOMAN WHO 'DIED' OF COVID RETURNED 10 DAYS LATER

● An 85-year-old woman believed by her family to have died from the coronavirus surprised her relatives by returning to her care home nine days after they were told she had been buried, a newspaper said.

Discrimination worsens in Spain, housing market most hostile

Madrid.— Racial and ethnic discrimination in Spain has worsened in the past few years, with a notable drop in access to housing, the Equality Ministry said in its 2020 report yesterday. It also highlighted growing racism in the education sphere. Almost one in three Black or ethnic minority respondents said they had experienced discrimination while house-hunting, starting with real estate and housing agencies and extending to locals and individual landlords. That was double over the previous report in 2013. Discrimination in the educational sector increased by more than 50% from 2013, with one in five respondents saying they had endured insults, assault and racist jokes from fellow students, and been excluded from games and activities. People from sub-Saharan Africa and Spain's Roma community, known locally as Gitano, experienced the highest levels of racism based on their physical aspect - 82% and 71% for the respective demographics.
