BACK THE VACCINE PASSPORT, SAYS BALEARIC GOVERNMENT

● Calls for all-party support and more resources to introduce

Covid-19 travel document to get travel industry moving. See Page 3

“I really do hope that Spain do not insist on the vaccine passport as I feel they will find a lot more people will not return which would be further devastating to Spain’s economy and tourist industry...” See Letters: Page Two Inside Today.

UK PM says no international travel until mid-May at earliest

● A review of foreign travel will report on April 12 with their recommendations.

London.— International travel from England will be banned until May 17 at the earliest, Prime Minister Boris Johnson announced yesterday, prolonging the pain for airlines, airports and holiday companies.

In its roadmap for easing restrictions, the government announced a review of travel which will report on April 12 with recommendations about how international travel should resume, while managing the risks of new variants of coronavirus. “The government will determine when international travel should resume, which will be no earlier than 17 May,” it said in its statement.

Britain is looking at a system of allowing vaccinated individuals to travel more freely internationally, it added

The announcement gave the Majorca tourist industry some hope.
